Why are you wanting to take the Master Mechanical test? Ability to pull permits, better understanding of the trade you are in, your boss told you to?....etc:

Have you already signed up with Johnson County to take the Prometric Master Mechanical test? Y or N

If you answered no to the previous question, I can help you with that, just let me know you need some guidance and I will give you info to get signed up to take the actual test. .

- The next class given will be: Saturday, October 24th @ the Great Wolf Lodge conference room, located @ the Legends in Kansas City, Kansas
- The class is $750.00-there is a link provided in the email I sent you to tab out. Your spot is not saved until you checkout with the link provided in the email.
- Once you have filled out this sheet, sent it back to me in any form you choose and pay for the class,I will email with you more info for the class.

Please note, I am not affiliated with Prometric in any way. My class is solely based on experience, my knowledge of the industry and I take the test 5-6 times a year to ensure I am updated on the questions given. You understand by taking this prep class you are not guaranteed to pass. You have to use your own knowledge, the tools I give you at the class and your understanding of the industry to pass the test. If you pay attention to the class, you will have no problem passing the Master Mechanical test. Percentage of passing students who took the prep class and passed the test as of 10-1-2020 is 99%. The books I provide for you are property of mine and MasterPassKC LLC, if you do not return the books the day of testing, you will be charged accordingly based on what property was not returned - this is up to my discretion.
